St. Mary's Junior College

Raleigh, North Carolina

Foreword

This is your 1955 Stage Coach for you to keep always. It is like an old-fashioned music box, whenever you open it, there will echo and re-echo in your ears and hearts the music of St. Mary's: the Chapel services . . . the 7:30 breakfast bell . . . orchestras at dances . . . one-hour dates in the afternoons . . . football games . . . studies . . . friends at school . . . dates . . . the voices of your teachers . . . the companionship of your friends . . . and the Spirit of St. Mary's.

And the priceless music box will refocus in your minds hundreds of happy hours spent in the sunshine, in the rain, under the moon, and under the stars at St. Mary's.

Dedication

"So nigh is grandeur to our dust,
So near is God to man.
When duty whispers low, 'Thou must!'
The youth replies, 'I can'."

She not only serves us students by constantly encouraging us, but also by setting an example that each of us would be proud to follow. Her work during orientation was important in getting us started out on the right foot in our new college life. Throughout the year, her personal interest in each of us has endeared her to us. We take great pleasure in dedicating the 1955 STAGE COACH to

MISS SARA ESTHER JONES

ST. MARY'S JUNIOR COLLEGE
RALEIGH, NORTH CAROLINA

RICHARD G. STONE
PRESIDENT

10 January 1955

To the Students
St. Mary's Junior College
Raleigh, North Carolina

Dear St. Mary's Girls:

Your editor, Pat McQueen, has graciously invited me to write you a letter to be put into the 1955 edition of the STAGE COACH. I am happy to extend to you my affectionate greetings.

Each year of my association with the student body of our college has left a lasting impression on my memory. I am very proud of St. Mary's and her accomplishments. This pride stems largely from the successes you girls achieve. By your diligence you gain a sound education and prepare yourselves for the good life. By your influence on each other you become mature, thoughtful people. And by your recreation you develop into charming individuals with all the graces that society admires. If by doing these things you develop sound character traits, we of the faculty and administration will feel that our efforts have been rewarded.

With kind personal regards I am,

Sincerely yours,

Richard G. Stone

RICHARD G. STONE

President

A.B., Western Maryland College; Ph.D., The Johns Hopkins University; L.H.D., Western Maryland College. St. Mary's 1946 —.

In the course of our lives at St. Mary's, we have come to look upon Dr. Stone, with his friendly smile and genial personality, as a permanent part of our school. In his nine years as president of St. Mary's, he has become so much a part of the school that it is scarcely possible for us to think of him apart from St. Mary's, or St. Mary's apart from Dr. Stone.

SCHOOL HYMN

We build our School on Thee, O Lord:
To Thee we bring our common need;
The loving heort, the helpful word,
The tender thought, the kindly deed.

We work together in Thy sight,
We live together in Thy love;
Guide Thou our falt'ring steps oright,
And lift our thoughs to heaven obove.

Hold Thou eoch hond to keep it just,
Touch Thou our lips and moke them pure;
If Thou ort with us, Lord, we must
Be faithful friends ond comrodes sure.

We chonge, but Thou ort still the same,
The some good Moster, Teacher, Friend;
We change; but Lord, we beor Thy Name,
To journey with it to the end. AMEN.

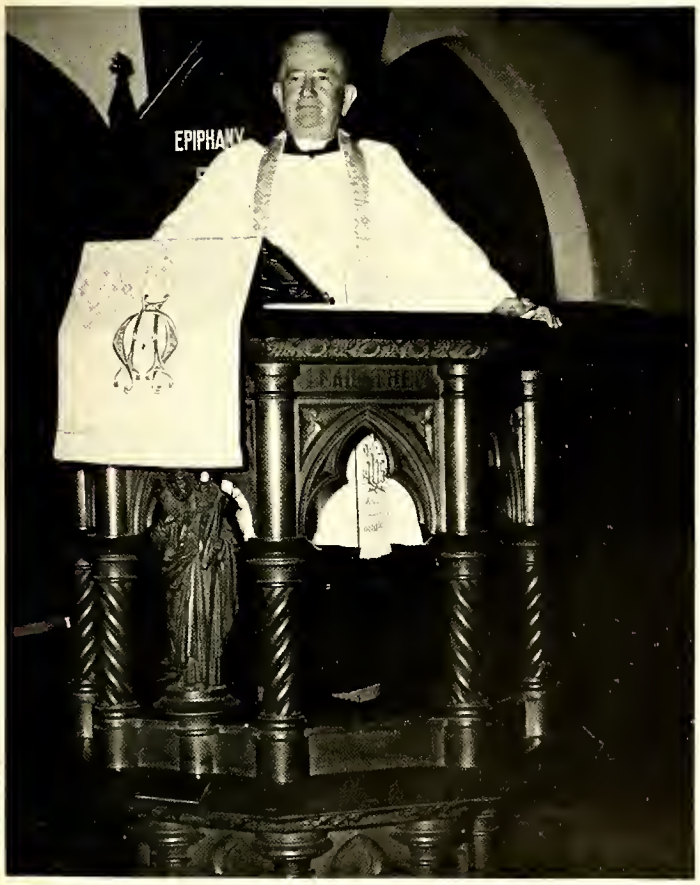

MARTHA DABNEY JONES

Dean

"Stands St. Mary's true and noble. . . ."

True and noble, our Dean gives devotion to the understanding and guidance of St. Mary's girls, and by the example of her high ideals inspires us to carry with us always the Spirit of St. Mary's. All of the students are quite sad that Miss Jones will no longer be our Dean after this year, but our love and best wishes follow her to Stuart Hall, hoping that her constructive influence will live there as it will always live at St. Mary's.

ISRAEL HARDING HUGHES

Chaplain

"Well we love the little chapel. . . ."

Through the comfort and guidance of our beloved chaplain, we are led through the Christian life so cherished at St. Mary's. Mr. Hughes will long be remembered by each of us, for he is our companion in joy or sorrow during all of our days here.

Senior Song

Farewell to thee, dear S.M.C.
We'll go our separate ways,
But we'll be true to friends we knew
And happy college days.

We are at last a senior class,
Our caps and gowns display
The fact that we soon gone will be
On graduation day.

Lo now we pray that from this day
Our future may be bright
With deeds we've done, with work and fun
For our dear blue and white.

Our teams and games, our classmates' names
We'll ever keep alive
Forever gone, yet we'll live on
Dear Class of '55!

Class Prophecy

Raleigh, N. C.
June 30, 1976

Chairman Jane Cutlar Best of the House S.M.A.B.I. (St. Mary's Alummae Bureau of Investigations) Committee has released the names and facts concerning the persons involved in the committee's recent investigation of the St. Mary's class of '55.

It was a hot, sultry June day when Chairman Best sent her investigators Reese, Mardre, Walters, Divine and Spivey out with instructions: "Get the facts, girls, nothing but the facts." However, they were unable to turn up any suspicious hints.

Anne Wallace and Jo-Anne Knott were in the Pokie. They had been arrested by the S.P.C.T. (Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Teachers). The sentence was handed down by the first feminine Supreme Court Judge in Virginia, Anne Harmon Jones. Also on the court's docket was a civil case between Nancy Jones and the State of Virginia, involving Nancy's island which had been lost. According to her lawyer, Toni Briggs, the island was dislodged by a ship's passing too close to it. The ship was probably the African liner carrying Mary Lee Breece who was embarking for Tibet and Madagascar, the only two places in the world she hadn't visited.

Another traveler is Corinne Bethune who has a six-months leave of absence from the Washington Zoo in order to go on a safari in Africa in search of a rare species of soldier ants.

Many members of the class were found to be involved in politics and hence had already been well-investigated. These include Lee Kohlsaat who accepted the position of U. S. Postmistress to keep busy while Claude traveled. Shirley Dees and "Sissy" Dawson were serving the Democratic Party as National Committee Women. Judy Rice, campaign secretary, said that Patsy Moore was coming along quite well in the 1976 Presidential race.

Another field that had claimed many class members was the theatre. Overseas, Mena Way Marsh was doing modern dance in Germany. Kathy Whitfield and Blanny Robertson were there, too, as comediennes with a group of the nation's leading players entertaining American servicemen abroad. Here in the states, Dewey Owens was singing at the Met. Betty Martin at last had a female role in a New York play, and Bitty Dent was playing in a show that is attracting theatre-goers from all over the world. Claudia Peeler was the featured entertainer at Bopland at Moorehead, run by Mary Ann Braswell, Mary Wright Parker, and Carolyn Seyffert. Ann Norman was also in the entertainment world. She had taken over for Ann Southern as Susie McNamara in "Private Secretary." Frances Setze was Donald O'Connor's dancing partner.

Quite a number of the girls were found giving able assistance to their husbands. Marty Whedbee, now Lady Marty, was helping her husband, a French nobleman she met while touring Europe, to learn "American" English. Carolyn Thompson was busy helping Jimmy care for the ailing pups of Marie Tyler, French poodle fancier. Margery Lindeman was doing very well as the wife of Virginia Beach's new mayor. Ann Fullton was involved in preparations for a big party at the fabulous long Island Country Club managed by her and her husband. Martha Good was skillfully holding on to unco-operative Dennis the Menace, and her pediatrician husband. Sugar Dudley, now an admiral's wife, is helping him start a retreat for homesick middies at Annapolis. Jeanne Ogburn was teaching cheerleading at the University of Colorado, while her ex-roommate, Ann Gillett, served as President of the National Women's Athletic Association.

While the investigators were in Marshal Field's in Chicago, seeking an interview with chief personnel director Jerry Dixon, they met Ann Barber buying clothes for her six little red-heads. They also heard that Kitty Campen was there outfitting her daughter, who, following in her mother's footsteps, is entering the Junior Miss America contest. We then saw several pictures of Penn Anthony who was in Oslo modeling sweaters for some Norwegian sweater manufacturer.

On the way to Florida to interview Megan Goodwin, now living the "Life of Riley" at Daytona Beach, the investigators passed several interesting schools. Anne Marie Miller was just leaving her junior Deke's at Grace Boney's beautiful modern nursery school. Margot Hammond and Mary Ruth Mitchell had opened a school for Yankees who have come South wanting a Southern accent. Ann Bynum was teaching a class at St. Mary's on how to stop biting fingernails.

While the investigators were so far south, they decided to spend a week resting on Mary Stieber's fabulous coffee plantation in South America.

Returning to North Carolina, to the University at Chapel Hill, they were told by Bobby Love, house mother at the K.A. House there, that Libbie and her family were coming home from Paducah for a visit during the summer. Lane Welsh was also there organizing a group to take a tour of Europe. Ann Marie Molloy regretted that she would not be able to accompany them. Ann Marie, now the nation's foremost mathematician, was to teach a course in higher math during the summer term. While they were in Chapel Hill, the investigators visited Alice Wahmann who was hospitalized there with encephalitis. Fortunately Jo Smithwick, resident physician, believes that she can be cured with a new cure-all patented by Patsy Haughton which is guaranteed to be 99.99 per cent pure—pure something—no one knows just what!

A short visit to their old Alma Mater, S.M.J.C. revealed Ann Keffer, who was filling the new position of chiropractor there for the benefit of the hockey and basketball teams.

In Raleigh, the investigators attended the Governor's Inaugural Ball. They saw Mrs. "Shot" Winslow who was still trying to convince the public that her real name is Ann. Also, they saw Sue Brock Jones who, it is said, hasn't raised her voice at anyone yet. According to word at the Ball, Ann Stronach was still holding her position as Las Vegas' favorite brunettte, and Jane Wrike, Virginia Lilly, and Ann Nimocks have netted their fourth million manufacturing panic buttons. Pat McQueen was not at the Ball, for she was still trying to get Dottie Foster and Mary Elise Bridger to turn in the 1955 class prophecy.

In concluding, the reporters wish to acknowledge the assistance given them by Mary Burgwyn, the nation's leading family tree tracer and Aubrey Campbell, who tours for the Virginia Chamber of Commerce.

Last Will and Testament

On this the 28th day of May, 1955, we, the Senior Class of St. Mary's Junior College, being of sound bodies and sane minds bequeath the following articles in the manner named below:

Article I

To Dr. Stone we leave our sincere gratitude for his guidance and assistance throughout our life at St. Mary's. To Miss Jones we leave our appreciation for the time and help she has so generously given us. To Miss Morris for her understanding guidance through all our problems we leave a million thanks.

Article II

I, Penn Anthony, leave my knock-knees to Coles Catheart.

I, Ann Barber, leave my ability to walk off with fraternity beauty titles to Mary Louise Bizzle.

I, Jane Cutlar Best, leave the Hall Council to Sylvia Colmore.

I, Corinne Bethune, will my sterno stove to the kitchen.

I, Grace Boney, leave my love for the KA's to Carolyn Foy who seems to be cultivating one of her own.

I, Mary Ann Braswell, leave my collection of Myrtle Beach cats to be added to Jane Westbrook's.

I, Mary Lee Breece, leave on the "S.S. Florida" for the University of Hong Kong.

I, Mary Elise Bridger, leave for my one-half of a cottage at Wrightsville Beach.

I, Toni Briggs, bequeath my raisin and fruit diet to Kathy Theobold.

I, Mary Burgwyn, leave my flowing black tresses to Lou Leslie who has not tried that color yet.

I, Ann Bynum, leave my bright eyes and rosy cheeks to next year's Student Body for obvious reasons.

I, Aubrey Campbell, leave Squints, Moss, and Eli, and a date book to anyone willing to take on the responsibility.

I, Kitty Campen, leave my three-inch platform heels to Peggy Smithdeal since Tiny is a little taller than George.

I, Frances Dawson, leave my Dior figure (?) to Nancy McLain, Betsy Wright, and Marie Watson to fight over.

I, Shirley Dees, leave to put Faye Adams out of business.

I, Bitty Dent, leave my elfie dance shoes to Patsy Beams so she can better fall in my footsteps.

I, Mary Ruth Divine, leave my surplus of energy to all 1955 debutantes who will need it the Sunday after the Ball.

I, Jerry Dixon, leave my devotion to SAE's to Helen Corbett.

I, Sugar Dudley, leave whistling "Anchors Aweigh."

I, Dottie Foster, leave my ability to horse around to Gretchen Mullen.

I, Ann Fullton, leave my quiet ways to Hunt Proctor.

We, Ann Gillett and Jeanne Ogburn, the sunshine twins, leave second Smedes to Miss Davis.

I, Martha Good, leave Mr. Moore snowed.

I, Megan Goodwin, leave my love for Davidson to Nancy Graham.

I, Margot Hammond, leave my ability to remain calm, cool, and collected to Mary House.

I, Patsy Haughton, leave my witticisms to some "fool."

I, Anne Harmon Jones, leave my Teddy Bear looks to Barry Bowen.

I, Nancy Jones, leave my ability to take forty-two hours and still make the honor roll to Ann Bachman.

I, Sue Brock Jones, leave my fiery blushes to Baby Rae Elliott.

I, Ann Keffer, take my frantic panic with me as I do not believe anyone here needs it.

I, Jo-Anne Knott, bequeath all boys to Uncle Sam since he inevitably gets them.

I, Lee Kohlsaat, leave my mail bags, empty, to Miss Brown.

I, Virginia Lilly, leave still sweating.

I, Margie Lindeman, leave because Corinne is leaving.

We, Bobbie and Libbie Love, bequeath our brains to Nancy and Fairfax Crow.

I, Harriett Mardre, leave to begin mixing Orange Blossoms at Nags Head.

We, Mena Way Marsh and Betty Martin, leave our Saturday nights in Raleigh to all the boarders.

I, Anne Marie Miller, leave to become a Weaver.

I, Mary Ruth Mitchell, will my stocks and bonds to Mr. Guess.

I, Ann Marie Molloy, leave my willingness to run down three flights of steps to get cokes for anyone.

I, Patsy Moore, bequeath my unstudied wit to Gail Farthing.

I, Pat McQueen, leave the Raleigh Police Force still searching for the "little man."

I, Ann Nimocks, leave my pious ways to Sumner Parham.

I, Anne Norman, leave the Pika's to Bunny Gee.

We, Mary Wright Parker and Claudia Peeler, leave our dyes, bleaches, and rinses to Toni Gamble.

I, Libby Reese, leave still pinned.

I, Judy Rice, leave the Young Democrats to Mr. Moore.

I, Frances Setze, leave 3rd Holt for the first time this year.

I, Carolyn Seyffert, leave my love for the Zetes to Sylvia Crumpler.

We, Jo Smithwick and Anne Stronach, leave the psychology class as empty as when we first entered it.

I, Mary Rhea Spivey, leave a nickel to start a fund for escalators to 3rd Smedes.

I, Mary Stieber, leave to give my regards to Broadway.

I, Carolyn Thompson, leave without signing out.

I, Marie Tyler, leave "Sura."

I, Alice Wahmann, leave my accent to Louisa Miles.

I, Anne Wallace, leave to breed love.

I, Sara Walters, leave to become the first lady of Hobbs House.

I, Lane Welsh, leave Johnny and my love problems to Ruth Watkins.

I, Martie Whedbee, leave my nose for news to Martha Brooks.

I, Katherine Whitfield, leave the 3rd Holt phone free for the first time since I arrived in September.

I, Ann Winslow, leave for Washington—not D. C.

I, Jane Wrike, will my green pills to next year's Student Body.

We, Dewey Owens and Blanche Robertson, leave our money and good looks to everyone who needs them as badly as we do.

We, the testators, Owens and Robertson, representing the Senior Class, do hereby appoint Miss Katherine Morris and Dr. Richard G. Stone as administrators of this, our Last Will and Testament, and instruct the above mentioned to carry out the same.
